

Olbert, Charles M., M.A.
Psychology Extern,
National Institute for the Psychotherapies
Clinical Psychology Doctoral Candidate
Fordham University
colbert@fordham.edu

Bio:

I'm a fifth-year doctoral student in clinical psychology at Fordham University, currently doing my clinical training at the National Institute for the Psychotherapies. My research to date has mostly concerned schizophrenia and theoretical issues in psychiatric nosology, although for my dissertation I'm studying the lived experience and psychological meanings of divination practices.