Her bio:

Lara Sheehi, PsyD (she/her/hers), is a faculty member at the George Washington University Professional Psychology Program. Her work is on decolonial struggles as well as power, race, class and gender constructs and dynamics within Psychoanalysis. She has an upcoming co-authored book with Stephen Sheehi, Psychoanalysis Under Occupation: Theory and Practice in Palestine (Routledge), and her most recent chapter, "The Islamophobic Normative Unconscious: Psychoanalytic Considerations" can be found in Islamophobia and Psychiatry: Recognition, Prevention, and Treatment (2019). Lara is the Secretary of the Society for Psychoanalysis and Psychoanalytic Psychology (Division 39 of the American Psychological Association) and the Chair of the American Psychoanalytic Association’s Teachers’ Academy. She is on the editorial board for the Journal of the American Psychoanalytic Association (JAPA), Psychoanalysis, Culture and Society (PCS), and Institutionalized Children Explorations and Beyond (ICEB), as well as on the advisory board to the USA-Palestine Mental Health Network and Psychoanalysis for Pride.

Her invitation:

Please consider coming to our annual conference which I am chairing (this year in March, 2020)--there are many talks on decoloniality, and our friends from the Lenape Center of Manhattan are opening up the conference to welcome us to their land, as well as presenting a panel on how we can best decolonize our spaces. Additionally, Mireille Fanon Mendes-France (Frantz Fanon’s daughter and head of the Frantz Fanon Foundation) will be one of our keynote speakers. I am including the link here, which has preliminary information on invited panels, etc., but the program will be up soon. Please feel free to send to your colleagues, too--I would love to meet you all!
